

Urban Farming seminar

Project Profile

What: Balcony and vertical farming seminar

Where: Hackerfarm meeting Tokyo, Japan

When: 15 November, 2017

Run by: Urban farming consultant Jon Walsh
e: info@businessgrow.net

In this talk, urban farming consultant Jon Walsh focused on balcony gardening and vertical farming in built up places like Tokyo. Jon shared his experiences of urban farming in the capital and the different ways people can optimize small spaces.

He discussed and demonstrated ways that people with small or narrow balconies can utilize vertical space to grow plants to improve the aesthetics of a balcony, reduce food bills, and provide a source of delicious and nutritious food.
